

TROOP 4 WINS RODEO

SCOUTS, VISITORS SEE MINSTREL SHOW

On Saturday evening, August 22 the first annual minstrel show under the direction of Robert Brett and Irv Heller was presented to an audience of around 300. Original costumes and lighting by Leonard Goldstein helped to give the show a Broadway atmosphere.

Bill Rescorl, the interlocutor, acted as master of ceremonies and kept the show going in fine fashion. Arthur Goldstein, Irving F. Southworth, Frank Shakespeare and Russell Downs as end men carried their parts like professionals.

Special note should be given to John Marquess for his renditions of the old fashioned girl and the strip tease that followed.

This first minstrel has set a tradition and a record that will be hard to copy.

TWENTY-SECOND YEAR TEPEES

Three twenty-second year tepees were given at the council fire last night. They were presented to Dr. E. C. Smith, Chief F. Howard Covey and to Jerry Loweberry. These tepees mean that each Scouter has been in camp every year since it was founded.

TROOP 2 NEXT; TROOP 5 THIRD

For the fourth consecutive year the Rodeo was won by Troop 4. Troop 2 was second with Troop 5 third. The individual winner was Sam Finlay of Troop 4 with 17 points. Jack Spitzen was the next highest man.

All week the cowboys and ranches were made ready for the bunkhouse inspection on Wednesday. Troop 1 had built a fort in the woods and in cooperation with Troop 3 had an Indian attack. Troop 2 had the Rescorl Training Center, 4 had a dude ranch, including some musical events. Troops 5 and 6 each had Western towns.

When the results were announced Troop 2 got first place in inspection, Troop 4 second, and Troops 1 and 3 tied for third place.

The first main event of the Rodeo was the swearing-in of the mavericks. Then red neckerchiefs were presented to them.

Pageants were given by both units. Unit 1 showed how boys become interested in the scouts and become members. Unit 2's skit had patriotism as its theme.

Awards for the best costumes went to Guy Sanders of Troop 5, Harry Reis of Troop 3, and Lowell Sanders of Troop 5.

THE WAUWEPEX SCOUT
CAMP WAUWEPEX
WADING RIVER, N.Y.

THE SEASON ENDS

Scouts are homeward bound today as another season ends. To some we are sure there is a feeling of regret as Wauwepex closes, others are happy because they are headed homeward.

You have all learned something by your stay here. You have to stand on your own two feet, to live with the other fellows, and to be happy while you are doing these things. Some of you have, no doubt, not enjoyed your stay here and that is too bad but you probably never will care for this kind of life. However, the majority have enjoyed their stay immensely otherwise they would not return year after year.

Today you will leave this camp with a trunk full of memories. Perhaps you have met new friends whom you will keep in touch with during the winter, or maybe you have gained knowledge that you will take back to your home troop. If you have gained anything during your stay here it has been worthwhile.

THANK YOU

We wish to thank all who have aided with this publication at any time during the summer.

INQUIRING ? ? REPORTER

THE QUESTION

What will you remember about Camp Wauwepex ten years from today?

THE ANSWERS

Russell Downs - Emily and Marie.

William Lindberg - Willie's fat stomach.

Larry Lord - Herky chasing John Verity back from his rest period in the Blue Room.

Bill Knudson - The friends I made, the fun I had, and the swell opportunity to pass tests.

Bill Sinram - The time Mr. Grace hit a tree after not hitting anything for twelve years driving in camp.

Carl Lord - When Chief used to lie in the lake and yo Troop 4. Now he does it from his bed.

Chief - The bungling buglers.

Halsey Cook - Shakespeare's letter from his girl being read in the upper mess hall.

Frank Shakespeare - The amazing good spirits of the "BIG boss" at breakfast and the unusual way Bob Brett gets out of bed in the morning.

James Nolan - The day that Dick Perley didn't talk for 24 hours.

C. McDough - The long line at the larry after having apple butter.

Jack Chantler - Cumming's face.

Seymour Rosman - The camp paper.

KNOW YOUR OFFICERS

DON DAVIS

Don Davis needs no introduction to the fellows who have taken Life Saving at Wauwepex. To them Don is affectionately known as "Grandmother Mangler". His humor, kind heart and forgiving nature start bubbling over every morning at 8:30--providing he is up by 8:30.

Seriously though, 19-year-old Don Davis has taken long strides since entering scouting. He is an Eagle Scout of Troop 72 of Hempstead, and at present he is an associate scout in that organization. This is Don's eighth season at Wauwepex. He was a troop leader in '39, assistant cook in '40, and he still holds down the job of first assistant waterfront director, a position he gained in '41. Davis is the official camp barber and the assistant baker--ask Charlie.

In September he will become a Senior at Syracuse University. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity at S. U. He also stars on the school's Varsity soccer team. Upon completion of his education he intends joining the Coast Guard Reserve. Victory will find Don teaching school and painting pictures.

Our hero's favorite sports are baseball, swimming, soccer, bowling (averages 160) and "beating on kids in Life Saving". He insists that the sun dyed his hair blond--not peroxide.

This is Don's last year at Wauwepex. He will undoubtedly be missed by scouts of '43.

BUCKSKINS TAPPED

Three Scouts were tapped by the Buckskins of Camp Wauwepex at Retreat last Sunday. Those tapped were Scouts Lewis Stanbrough, Halscy Cook and Richard Perley.

These Scouts have been working this past week on projects around the camp.

ODDS AND ENDS

A little boy was saying his go-to-bed prayers in a very low voice.

"I can't hear you, dear," said his mother.

"Wasn't talking to you," said the small one firmly.

*

Tenderfoot Scout: "Well what's the matter? Didn't I do all right at Retreat?"

Troop Leader: "Sure you did all right. You won it by a mile."

*

Professor: Will you men in the back of the room please stop exchanging notes?

Student: They aren't notes, they are cards. We're playing bridge.

Professor: Oh, I beg your pardon.

*

Bill Barlow: I know the language of all animals.

Dick Spooner: Next time you see a skunk, ask him what's the big idea.

*

Scoutmaster: What's the difference between an elephant and an egg?

Tenderfoot: Don't know, sir.

Scoutmaster: You would be a heck of a guy to send out for eggs.

*

Scout: Cronan talks too much.

Officer: Yeh, he was probably vaccinated with a phonograph needle.

*

Landlubber: Would you help me find my stateroom?

Sea Scout: Have you forgotten the number?

Landlubber: Yeh, but I'll know if I see it again, because there was a lighthouse just outside my porthole.

SIX EAGLE AWARDS GIVEN AT COUNCIL

Six Eagle badges were presented at the last council fire of the 1942 camping season at Camp Wauwepex. They were given to Scouts George Kafka, Marc Kirchner, George Hammelman, Marco Way, John Verity and Stanley Galt.

George Kafka, patrol leader in Troop 178 of Great Neck, is a student at Great Neck High.

Marc Kirchner has been active in Scouting for the past two years. In his home troop, 178 of Great Neck, he is an assistant patrol leader.

George Hammelman, senior patrol leader of Troop 33, Hempstead, is a graduate of Hempstead High School. At camp he is assistant troop leader of Troop 6.

Marco Way is junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 91, Hicksville. He is a student in Hicksville High School.

Stanley Galt is a patrol leader in Troop 167 of Rockville Centre.

John Verity is active in Troop 109 of Valley Stream. At camp he is an instructor in the Craft Lodge.

PIONEER SQUAD TO CLOSE CAMP

A pioneer squad composed of 18 campers will help the officers close Camp Wauwepex after a highly successful summer camping season.

The members of the Pioneer Squad are as follows: Martin Schickler, Jack Murphy, George Younger, Halsey Cook, Richard Perley, Fred Geib, Murray Goldstein, Sam Finlay, Peter Behrendt, Seymour Rosman, Morton Yuter, Lawrence Mendelson, Marc Kirchner, Phillip Nelson, William White, Buel Smith, and George Hammelman. These boys will close the camp.
